Baratti, Giacomo, fl. 1655.

The late travels of S. Giacomo Baratti, an Italian gentleman, into the remote countries of the Abissins, or of Ethiopia interior. Wherein you shall find an exact account of the laws, government, religion, discipline, customs, &c., of the Christian people that do inhabit there, with many observations which some may improve to the advantage and increase of trade with them. Together, with a confirmation of this relation drawn from the writings of Damianus de Goes, and Jo. Scaliger, who agree with the author in many particulars. Translated by G. D. London, B. Billingsley, 1670.

Baxter, Richard, 1615-1691.

A defence of the principles of love, which are necessary to the unity and concord of Christians; and are delivered in a book called The cure of church-divisions. I. Inviting all sound and sober Christians, (by what name soever called) to receive each other to communion in the same churches. II. And where that (which is first desirable) cannot be attained, to bear with each other in their distinct assemblies, and to manage them all in Christian love. Written to detect and eradicate all love-killing, dividing, and church-destroying principles, passions and practice, and to preserve the weak in this hour of mani-

... Baylor's. Old yellow manuscripts ... 1941. (Card 2)

Two of three manuscript stories written in a late seventeenth century hand, and bound in a volume now at Baylor university. The first, relating to Mascambruni, was written by the Abbate Giovanni Battista Rinalducci, the second, an anonymous manuscript, is an imaginary conversation between Marquis Francesco Azzolini and Gio Lodovico Francia. The third, translated by E. H. Yarrill under title, Deplorable and impious homicide committed by Guido Franceschini against Pietro Comparini, Violante Comparini and Pompilia their accredited daughter, was published as series 11. of Baylor university's Browning interests, 1939.

The original manuscript was purchased from a London bookseller in 1903 by Rufus King, minister to Great Britain. He sent it to Thomas Jefferson, who returned it after making a copy. cf. Writings of Thomas Jefferson, 1853–54, v. 4, p. 528. The tract was first printed in the Richmond (Va.) enquirer of the 1st, 5th and 8th of September 1804, from a transcript sent to Jefferson's friend, Mr. Wyeth. Force reprinted this.
Another copy of the original, made by Jefferson himself, and with a somewhat different introduction, was printed in the Virginia evangelical and literary magazine, Richmond, 1829, v. 3, p. 128–149; reprinted in Virginia historical register and literary note book, 1850, v. 3, p. 61–75, 121–136.
